The investment objective of the Fund is to provide total return, consisting of both current income and capital appreciation.

The Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets (plus borrowings for investment purposes, if any) in fixed income securities. In seeking to achieve the Fund's investment objective of total return, the Fund invests primarily in fixed income securities of U.S. and non-U.S. issuers, including those in emerging and frontier markets. The Fund invests in various strategic and tactical global bond market opportunities without limitations in geography (developed and emerging markets), issuer type (government/public sector and corporate/private sector), quality (investment grade, below investment grade or unrated), and currency denomination (U.S. Dollar and foreign currencies). Risk Factors

The Fund is subject to the risks associated with the underlying bonds and other fixed income securities including credit, prepayment, call and interest rate risk. As interest rates rise, the value of the Fund can go down and an investor can lose principal. The Fund may invest in foreign securities which may expose the Fund to adverse currency and exchange rate fluctuations, political, social and economic risks. The Fund invests in foreign and emerging market securities which involves certain risks such as currency fluctuations, political and social instability and reduced market liquidity. Investing in emerging markets and especially frontier markets are subject to special risks that are not normally associated with more developed foreign markets. The magnification of risks in frontier markets is the result of: potential for extreme price volatility and illiquidity, government ownership or control of parts of private sectors and new or unsettled securities laws in many frontier countries.

The Fund may invest in derivative instruments such as exchange-listed equity futures contracts, swaps and currency forwards which may cause the Fund to experience greater volatility and less liquidity. Derivatives may be more sensitive to changes in market conditions and may amplify the risk of loss for the Fund. The Fund may experience high portfolio turnover which could result in higher transaction costs and capital gains. There can be no assurance that any fund will achieve its objective.

Effective May 1, 2025, the performance benchmark consists of 33.3% Bloomberg Barclays US High Yield (USD) Index, 33.3% Morningstar LSTA US Leveraged Loan Index, and 33.3% JP Morgan EMBI Global Diversified (USD) Index. Prior to May 1, 2025, the benchmark included different indexes at different weights, reflective of the underlying investable universes over time. The Bloomberg US Corporate High Yield Bond Index measures the USD-denominated, high yield, fixed-rate corporate bond market. Alpha- Reflects how a Fund did relative to what would be expected given the Fund's beta and the performance of its benchmark. For example, alpha of 1.4 means the Fund outperformed its estimated return by 1.4%.

Beta- The Fund's sensitivity to market changes using its benchmark as an approximation of the market, beta greater than 1 is more volatile, beta less than 1 is less volatile.

Up Market Capture - Ratio of average portfolio return over the benchmark during periods of positive benchmark return. Higher values indicate better product performance.

Down Market Capture- Ratio of average portfolio return over the benchmark during periods of negative benchmark return. Lower values indicate better product performance.

Standard Deviation - Typically referred to as Volatility or Risk, standard deviation measures the dispersion of actual returns around their average.

Sharpe Ratio - Reflects the reward per each unit of risk taken by a portfolio. The higher the ratio, the better the Fund's risk-adjusted return.

Tracking Error- A measure of active risk relative to the benchmark. Reflects the standard deviation of the difference between the portfolio return and benchmark return.

Information Ratio - A measure of manager skill relative to the benchmark. Reflects the difference between the portfolio return and benchmark return, adjusted for the level of risk (tracking error).

Turnover - Depending on market and other conditions, the Fund may experience high portfolio turnover, which may result in higher brokerage commissions and transaction costs and capital gains (which could increase taxes and, consequently, reduce returns).

Effective Duration - A measure of the price sensitivity of bonds, particularly useful for bonds with embedded options (e.g., callable bonds, putable bonds, and mortgage-backed securities).

Wtd. Average Maturity- The weighted average time to maturity of all debt securities held in the Fund.

Wtd. Average Quality - The weighted average credit quality of all debt securities held in the Fund.

SEC Yield - A calculation methodology that has been standardized by the SEC that allows for fair comparisons between funds. This calculation assumes that all the income that has accrued over the past 30 days will continue for the next 12 months. Fund expenses are deducted, and then this annualized income amount is divided by the fund's net asset value at the end of the period.

Portfolio characteristics including rates refer to the underlying securities in the fund's portfolio and not to the fund itself.

For fixed-income funds, the vertical axis shows the credit quality of the bonds owned and the horizontal axis shows interest rate sensitivity as measured by a bond's effective duration. The Style Box provides a visual representation of fund characteristics and is intended to aid comparisons and portfolio construction based on what funds actually hold.
