Introduction

On March 14, 2025, President Trump rescinded former President Biden's April 2021 executive order requiring federal contractors to pay a $15 hourly minimum wage to workers for new federal contract solicitations starting January 30, 2022 and increasing to $17.75/hour in 2025. Federal appeals courts have taken different positions on the legality of the 2021 order, and the Department of Labor rules implementing the order remain in place. Executive Order 13658 — which was implemented by the Obama administration and requires federal contractors to pay $13.30/hour — also remains. Beginning on May 11, 2026, the Executive Order 13658 minimum wage rate that generally must be paid to workers performing work on or in connection with contracts it covers (contracts awarded between January 2015 and January 2022) will increase to $13.65 per hour. It will increase to $14.05/hour on January 6, 2027. Numerous states have taken action to gradually increase the minimum wage to at least $15/hour for most employees. To help employers prepare and address related issues, this roundup provides links to federal and state resources from organizations, government websites, third-party resources and news articles. The aggregated content in each section is organized in reverse chronological order and is by no means comprehensive. The content also does not necessarily reflect Mercer's or the authors' point of view on the subject.

Federal

On March 14, 2025, President Trump rescinded former President Biden's April 2021 executive order requiring federal contractors to pay a $15 hourly minimum wage to workers for new federal contract solicitations starting January 30, 2022 and increasing to $17.75/hour in 2025. Federal appeals courts have taken different positions on the legality of the 2021 order, and the Department of Labor rules implementing the order remain in place. Executive Order 13658 — which was implemented by the Obama administration and requires federal contractors to pay $13.65/hour — also remains. Beginning on January 6, 2027, the Executive Order 13658 minimum wage rate that generally must be paid to workers performing work on or in connection with contracts it covers (contracts awarded between January 2015 and January 2022) will increase to $14.05 per hour.

The federal minimum wage is $7.25/hour effective July 24, 2009.

Multistate resources

Thirty states, along with Washington, DC, Guam, Puerto Rico and the US Virgin Islands, have set their minimum wage higher than the federal level of $7.25/hour, and the trend is to move toward at least a $15/hour minimum wage rate for most employees.

States and cities committed to at least a $15/hour minimum wage rate

Alaska, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, Washington, and Washington, DC, have committed to increase the general minimum wage rate to at least $15/hour. Some cities in other states have also committed to at least a $15/hour minimum wage. Michigan's minimum wage will increase to $14.97 by 2028.

Alaska

On November 5, 2024, voters in Alaska approved a ballot measure that will increase the minimum wage from $11.91/hour to $15/hour by July 1, 2027.

Arizona

On January 1, 2026, Arizona's minimum wage increased to $15.15/hour, up from $14.70/hour. It will increase to $15.65/hour on January 1, 2027.

On January 1, 2026, Flagstaff's minimum wage increased to $18.35/hour, up from $17.85/hour in 2025.

On January 1, 2026, Tucson's minimum wage increased to $15.45/hour.

California

On January 1, 2026, California's minimum wage increased to $16.90/hour, up from $16.50/hour for all employees. It will increase to $17.40/hour on January 1, 2027. Numerous counties and cities in California have higher minimum wage rates. For example, Los Angeles' minimum wage rate increased to $18.42/hour on July 1, 2026, up from $17.87/hour. On July 1, 2026, San Francisco's minimum wage rate increased to $19.61/hour, up from $19.18/hour.

On March 26, 2024, the governor signed legislation (AB 610) that exempts restaurants in airports, hotels, large event centers, theme parks, museums, gambling establishments and certain other locations from the minimum wage law that took effect on April 1, 2024. Bakeries and restaurants in grocery stores were already exempt under the law.

On April 1, 2024, certain fast food workers began earning $20/hour, under legislation (AB 1228) signed by the governor on September 28, 2023. The Fast Food Council can increase the wage annually, but the increase will be capped at the lesser of 3.5% or the annual increase in the US-CPI for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers.

On October 13, 2023, the governor signed legislation (SB 525) to progressively increase the minimum wage for many health care workers to $25/hour by 2026. Workers at large health care facilities now earn $24/hour as of July 1, 2025, and they will earn $25/hour as of July 1, 2026.

Beginning January 1, 2028, the minimum wage will be adjusted for inflation each year. For the remaining health care workers, the minimum wage will gradually increase to $25/hour. The Department of Industrial Relations issued FAQs that provide the different rates. Certain cities — for example, Los Angeles, Monterey Park and Long Beach — already have a $25/hour minimum wage for health care workers.

New York

On January 1, 2026, in New York City, Long Island and Westchester County, the minimum wage increased to $17/hour, up from $16.50/hour in 2025. On March 10, 2026, the New York City Council introduced proposed legislation (Bill Int. No. 757) that would implement phased increases in 2027 — reaching $30/hour by 2020.

For the rest of New York, the minimum wage increased to $16/hour on January 1, 2026, up from $15.50/hour in 2025.

Starting on January 1, 2027, the state minimum wage rates will be set annually by the New York State Department of Labor and published no later than October 1 of each year, with the new rate effective on January 1 of the following year. Under New York law, minimum wage rates can increase each year based on inflation. The law also includes certain conditions, known as “off-ramps,” that can prevent an automatic increase. One of the off-ramps conditions has been met for 2027, so the minimum wage will not receive an inflation-based increase on January 1, 2027. The Governor is proposing a change to the law’s off-ramp provisions that would allow workers to receive the inflation-based wage increase. If approved, new rates would take effect on March 1, 2027.

Since July 2023, New York City also has a minimum pay rate for app-based food delivery workers. As of April 1, 2025, it is $21.44/hour, up from $19.56/hour in 2024.
